ALLIES TAKE UP OFFENSIVE IN WEST AND RUSSIANS ARE INVADING GERMANY IN EAST

Great Battle Between Russian and German Forces is Still Raging in Russian-Poland---German Strategy Pronounced Faulty in Move Against Russian Forces and Great Disaster Still is Faced---Czar's Hosts 20 Miles Inside German Territory.

By Associated Press.

London, November 30.—Germany acknowledges that the Russian northern army has penetrated into East Prussia to a distance of 15 miles southwest of Gumbinnen, which is about 20 miles west of the German border.

In Belgium, says the French official statement it is the allies and not the Germans who are now on the offensive. These two points stood out in today's news from the battlefields of Europe.

The German official statement says that strong Russian forces attempted a surprise attack on the fortifications of Darkehmen in East Prussia and that they were repulsed.

Semi-official information from Petrograd is that operations along the Prussian front are turning to the advantage of the Russians and that the Germans are retiring in disorder.

Meanwhile the great battle in Russian-Poland, between the Vistula and Warta rivers, continues without definite result. The German War Office states that the Russians were defeated in a battle south of the Vistula and that 4500 men were captured.

By Associated Press.

London, November 30.—Reference to the Russian successes in North Poland have become somewhat chastened since the cautionary report issued by Grand Duke Nicholas, commander of the Russian forces in the field, was made public. Nevertheless, the military critics remain convinced that the German invasion of Russian-Poland has suffered a check, which only strenuous efforts can save from disaster.

A report from Petrograd set forth that the Germans, apparently ignorant of the extent of the Russian opposition along the Vistula, are holding this opposition in contempt there with heavy forces against the Russian center, leaving very thin lines of communication between their wings. This created a situation, said to be without precedent in the history of military strategy.

In the meantime the resumption of the Russian offensive resulted in a wedge, dominated by Lodz, being thrust into the German center. If the Germans can hold their lines of communication with their wings intact the invaders may be able to withdraw, in the view of British observers, without suffering disaster.

Berlin and Vienna continue to report that the battle along the rivers Vistula and Warthe is proceeding without decisive result.

On the western front, according to the Paris communication, a lull prevails, except in the Argonne, where German attacks are said to have been fruitless. Unofficial dispatches declare that Zeebrugge is again preparing for an assault from the sea.

ARBITRATION UNDER WAY

By Associated Press.

Chicago, November 30.—Arbitration of the differences over wages and hours of employment of 98 western railroads and their 55,000 engine-men began here today before a board of arbitrators appointed under the provision of the Newland act. It is regarded as the most important case thus far to come under the law. In a general way it is stated that the wage increases sought by the men is about 10 per cent.

RUSSIANS BOMBARD CRACOW

By Associated Press.

Milan, via London, November 30.—The siege of Cracow has begun, according to a correspondent of a newspaper here, who is with the Russian army. He writes that the Russians are bombarding the forts with their heavy siege guns and that one of the suburbs of the city is reported to be in flames.

The capture of this fortress has been one of the main objectives of Russia's campaign against Austria, and the theory is that its fall, together with that of Przemyśl, now under siege, would mean Russian ascendancy in that part of Austria which lies north of the Carpathian mountains.

AGED GROCER IS MURDERED

By Associated Press.

Canton, O., November 30.—Philip Henry, aged 60, a grocer, was shot and killed by unknown robbers late last night in his store, where he had gone to arrange the lights for the night.

DETAILED MAP OF SITUATION AROUND VERDUN

This map shows in detail the operations around Verdun and along the heights of the Meuse. The French official statement said that the French forces had been driven out of Chauvencourt, where a part of their force is believed to have been destroyed by German mines. This attempt of the French to drive back the point of the German wedge in the Verdun-Toul barrier has for the moment failed. The German official statement spoke of repulsing a French attack against Combes, a short distance south of Fresnes. French forces north and south of the German salient at St. Mihiel have made slight advances in the past few weeks, so that the Germans have only one road (marked in heavy lines on the map) by which they keep open their communications with Metz. The French forces north and south of this road are only about ten miles apart.

By Associated Press.

Columbus, O., November 30.—Governor Cox indicated today that he will not interfere to prevent the execution Thursday night of Harley Beard, Ironton boy murderer, and Wesley Jenkins, colored, of Dayton, who killed his sweetheart.

The governor is known to be opposed to the principle of capital punishment and he appeared worried today over the responsibility imposed on him by the fact that he alone can save the two murderers from dying in the electric chair. He stated that in view of the fact that there had been practically no recommendations for clemency from those familiar with the two cases he did not feel justified in granting reprieves. Jenkins today made a written appeal to the governor asking that his life be spared.

RECENT FOOTBALL SEASON ESTABLISHES A PRECEDENT

During the football season, just closed, Washington has accomplished more on the gridiron than at any time in its history. Not only has it turned out a very creditable high school representative team in the face of great odds but it has, through the systematic efforts of certain public spirited men, put the "germ" into the younger gridiron aspirants of the city. By so doing it has increased the efficiency of the lads by furnishing them a congenial method of developing their energies. It has taught them the value of good, honest sport and not least of all has paved the way for future local high school teams, the better because of early training.

Washington high school in recent years has been seriously handicapped on the gridiron by the necessity of annually "breaking in" new players and the experience has been that not until the latter part of the season have its teams been able to cope successfully with their more thoroughly trained opponents. The organization of a football league among the grade schools of Washington this year has proved the presence of splendid material, and this material, under expert hands, has been brought out wonderfully. The lads have the spirit and with the training they will later be valuable as high school defenders. They will not enter into the game then as raw recruits but as experienced men and the result can easily be conjectured.

Further than this the training of these lads will have so imbued them with the spirit of athletics that many of them who might otherwise have left school after their graduation from the grades will continue with the studies of the high school, mainly because of the sport offered them, and by so doing will likewise improve their education because of the conditions imposed on high school athletics.

The success of their football organization this year has sharpened the appetite of the lads for a continuation of competitive sport and they are now looking forward to organize basketball and track and field contests.

The relation of sports to study—its powerful influence thereon—is known to all intelligent persons. The proof is found in the prominent position of athletics in the training given by the world's great colleges.

SEVEN MEN SHOT IN RETALIATION

Mr. Welton Green, residing near Milledgeville, has left with us a copy of the Front Royal, (Va.) Sentinel, in which is published the following copy of a letter passing between commanders of the armies in the Civil War, 50 years ago, relative to the execution of 14 men. One of the men executed was a boyhood friend of Mr. Green:

November 11, 1864.

Maj. Gen. P. H. Sheridan, Commanding U. S. Forces in the Valley.

General: Some time in the month of September, during my absence from my command, six of my men, who had been captured by your forces, were hung and shot in the streets of Front Royal by the order and in the immediate presence of Brig. Gen. Custer. Since then another (captured by a Col. Powell on a plundering expedition into Rappahannock) shared a similar fate. A label affixed to the coat of one of the murdered men declared that "this will be the fate of Mosby and all of his men."

Since the murder of my men, not less than 700 prisoners, including many officers of high rank, captured from your army by this command, have been forwarded to Richmond; but the execution of my purpose of retaliation was deferred in order, as far as possible, to confine its operation to the men of Custer and Powell. Accordingly, on the 8th inst., 7 of your men were executed on the Valley turnpike, your highway of travel. Hereafter any prisoners falling into my hands will be treated with the kindness due to their condition unless some new act of barbarity shall compel me reluctantly to adopt a line of policy repugnant to humanity. Very respectfully,

Your Obedient Servant,

John S. Mosby,

Lieutenant Colonel.

Hartman Theater

WEEK OF NOVEMBER 30TH.

"The Passing of Hans Dippel" is the odd title of a new play which will be seen at the Hartman theater, Columbus, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, November 30, December 1st and 2nd, with Wednesday matinee. It will be offered with an uncommonly strong cast, headed by that excellent actor, Mr. John Sainpolis. The author of the play is John Valentine, who also wrote "The Stronger Sex", produced some years ago. It is said that "The Passing of Hans Dippel" has a close bearing on certain important political events of recent interest in Ohio. It is declared to be the last word—and the strongest—on the recent "Wet and Dry" question and, as such is bound to command the interest of all. It must not be understood that this new play is essentially political; on the contrary, its appeal is said to be simply on its worth as a powerful drama, rich in comedy and quaint character, with an appealing love story and with climaxes that move and thrill.

COLUMBUS, WEEK OF DEC. 7TH.

Monday evening, December 7th the Hartman theatre will offer George M. Cohan's latest farce, "Seven Keys to Baldpate", one of the cleverest things Mr. Cohan has ever produced.

In "Seven Keys to Baldpate" the author has mixed melodrama and farce with a deftness that is as delightful as it is thrilling, with the result that his audiences are held at concert pitch, so real is the tension sustained during the rapid action of this mystery farce. An admirable cast, headed by Cyril Scott, succeeds in giving forceful expression to the story, into which Mr. Cohan has mixed so much of his own virility that it whizzes along at top speed from prologue to epilogue. The charm of this farce is said to lie in the naturalness of the characters introduced and the whimsical humor of the piece, to say nothing of the curiously delightful love story it presents which makes this latest Cohan production one of the most interesting seen on the American stage in years.

Opening Wednesday, December 9th, and continuing through the balance of the week and all of the week of the 15th, with daily matinee, the Hartman theater will offer the motion picture "Seeing New York With the Movie Man". Here is your chance to see New York city for practically nothing. Everyone wants to see New York city, the most interesting city in the United States, but all of us are not able to gratify that ambition. The Educational Film Company has conceived the idea of bringing New York to us and those who have seen the picture say it gives a better idea of that great city than an actual sight-seeing trip for the "movie" man has known just where to go to find the most interesting points. Here are a few of the places you will visit. Public buildings, churches, schools, theatres, river front, parks, busy streets, Fifth avenue, Broadway, the Bowery, Brooklyn bridge, skyscrapers, Chinatown, Grant's tomb, Riverside drive, Blackwell's Island, the Speedway, City Hall, Post Office, Woolworth building, Park Row, Singer building, Stock Exchange, Pennsylvania railroad station, New York Central terminal and a number of the big stores. A lecturer will accompany you on the trip and point out all the places of interest. Besides these remarkable views, a splendid quartet of vocalists will give a number of selections during the evening, thus assuring a delightful evening's entertainment.

WHAT HEMO IS

YOU KNOW

beef juice is especially nourishing. You know the iron of vegetables and meats builds blood. You know malt is an excellent tonic.

You know the benefits of celebrated Waukesha Water. Hemo is all this and more—more than a medicine because its hemoglobin builds without drugs, more than a malt tonic because it is "double malted" and contains no alcohol—more than prime beef because it is ready-to-use energy requiring no digestion.

HEMO

is beef juices, hemoglobin malt tonic, pure sweet milk and celebrated Waukesha Water all processed to a powdered form. That's why it builds digestion, builds blood, builds nerve force, builds rounded bodies.

All that is necessary to make a delicious drink is to add water. It tastes like malted milk, but is more delicious and more nourishing.

BUILDS

In "Seven Keys to Baldpate" the author has mixed melodrama and farce with a deftness that is as delightful as it is thrilling, with the result that his audiences are held at concert pitch, so real is the tension sustained during the rapid action of this mystery farce. An admirable cast, headed by Cyril Scott, succeeds in giving forceful expression to the story, into which Mr. Cohan has mixed so much of his own virility that it whizzes along at top speed from prologue to epilogue. The charm of this farce is said to lie in the naturalness of the characters introduced and the whimsical humor of the piece, to say nothing of the curiously delightful love story it presents which makes this latest Cohan production one of the most interesting seen on the American stage in years.

Opening Wednesday, December 9th, and continuing through the balance of the week and all of the week of the 15th, with daily matinee, the Hartman theater will offer the motion picture "Seeing New York With the Movie Man". Here is your chance to see New York city for practically nothing. Everyone wants to see New York city, the most interesting city in the United States, but all of us are not able to gratify that ambition. The Educational Film Company has conceived the idea of bringing New York to us and those who have seen the picture say it gives a better idea of that great city than an actual sight-seeing trip for the "movie" man has known just where to go to find the most interesting points. Here are a few of the places you will visit. Public buildings, churches, schools, theatres, river front, parks, busy streets, Fifth avenue, Broadway, the Bowery, Brooklyn bridge, skyscrapers, Chinatown, Grant's tomb, Riverside drive, Blackwell's Island, the Speedway, City Hall, Post Office, Woolworth building, Park Row, Singer building, Stock Exchange, Pennsylvania railroad station, New York Central terminal and a number of the big stores. A lecturer will accompany you on the trip and point out all the places of interest. Besides these remarkable views, a splendid quartet of vocalists will give a number of selections during the evening, thus assuring a delightful evening's entertainment.

SEE TRACIONS GO GLIMMERING

Chillicotheans, who for the past two or three years have been hopeful of securing a traction line from Hillsboro, and an extension of the Baker traction line from South Charleston, via, this city, now are fearful that there is no chance for obtaining the coveted outlets east and north.

The survey of the proposed Springfield & Washington extension, made some two years ago, shows that between Chillicothe and South Charleston, via, this city, 150,000 persons lived within 2½ miles of the proposed line.

The Gospel of Intelligent Spending

One of today's writers is quoted as having said, "Money is not an end, but a means. It may be as immoral to save at the cost of the happiness of those dependent upon us as to spend extravagantly and without thought for tomorrow."

There are plenty of apostles of economy, of scrumpy saving, but few have come forward to preach the gospel of intelligent spending.

The practice of the right kind of economy, providing for future needs and future emergencies, and refusing to be tempted to foolish expenditures, is above all things to be commended, but there are many who go so far beyond that, that they become parsimonious.

To crimp a human life, to warp and narrow it, in order to store away idle dollars not as a protection to illness and old age, but with the spirit of hoarding, is not the proper spirit of thrift.

A large percentage of the people we meet every day are compelled to practice rigid economy to eke out the income to the extent of the necessities. It is their misfortune that they cannot enjoy many pleasures that a little larger income would mean, but it is not their fault.

But how about the man who is able to indulge his own desires and also to bring happiness to his friends by a little free handedness and yet refuses to do it; who selfishly hoards his dollars instead of using them for the good of others and of the community?

Intelligent spending, far from being extravagance, is a thing to be cultivated.

The money, wisely used for comfort, for happiness or for good, accomplishes a double purpose; it enriches life and it goes into the circulating medium of finance, contributing success to legitimate business.

War As a Disinfectant

With the present war the center of public interest, in our own country, no less than on the continent, it follows that every aspect of war's possibilities enters into current discussion.

Alfred W. Lawson, in a recent contribution to a New York publication, goes so far as to place war in the class of a disinfectant, which, as soon as the odor disappears, leaves conditions in a healthier and more purified state.

He goes even farther, and claims that mankind owes everything to war and very little to peace—that it has always been the warrior who has taken up the fight against the slave driver and savagery.

That there is some basis of truth for these assertions, we must admit, even if we refuse to stand by the very broad statement that man owes very little to peace.

Our present civilization vouches for the fact that the people who have been the most successful in war have accomplished most in the development of science and commerce.

Our American wars offer proof of that and a resume of notable wars of history strengthens this belief.

The stress of necessity, the need of exceptional qualities, the demand for heroism are emphasized under warring conditions as nowhere else and a certain personal courage, which forgetful of self, eager to conquer, is of immense efficiency.

It may be that without the great battles that have changed the map and the governments of the world, today's advancement would have been impossible, but we are also indebted to the days of peace, which followed these upheavals, for the finer things of our civilization.

If war has called forth strategy and organization, bravery and prowess, no less has peace given opportunity for revival of the fine arts for the development of those things that mold mankind to high thought and unselfish purpose, and for the progress of science to the ultimate good of the world.

Even admitting that there have been evils which demanded the disinfectant of war, the day and age for such necessity should be past and in the bright light of today's progress, peaceful pursuits offer the greatest possibilities for the development of the scientific, the economic and the industrial.

Street Waifs Only Need a Chance to Make Good on Their Merits

By THOMAS F. SCULLY, Judge of the Chicago Boys' Home

SEVENTY-FIVE per cent of the boys ought never to be brought into court. They have never had a chance; they sleep in box cars and under sidewalks; THEY HAVEN'T ENOUGH TO EAT; THEY AREN'T ALLOWED IN SOME PARTS OF THE CITY TO PLAY EVEN BASEBALL IN THE STREETS.

ALL THAT MOST OF THESE BOYS NEED IS A WORD OF FRIENDLINESS. THEY AREN'T BEGGARS. GIVE THEM A CHANCE AND THEY MAKE GOOD ON THEIR OWN MERITS.

Under the "big brother" movement seventy-five boys were taken in charge by members of the Elks fraternity. Out of this number seventy-four "made good." The seventy-fifth left town and has not been heard from.

I am not in favor of organized charities. The boy gets the idea that he is to be cared for from the cradle to the grave. WHAT HE SHOULD HAVE IS A CHANCE. BUSINESS MEN SHOULD GIVE HIM A CHANCE TO WORK FOR HIMSELF.

Eyes at our window, hearts! Nor all the light

How can I give the Gifts of cloth and gold?
How give but dross who might give paradise
My brother's hurt, laid at my door, is mine—
Myself in judgment startles from his eyes.

Myself and more! Myself and all men's selves,
Bound in that look of his—that weary nod;
Though one bruised soul shall don the world's defeat,
Yet all souls share it * * * And the sharing's God.

A white face at my threshold! Flung the door—

"That the poor girl had a young man in her eye!" rejoined hubby, with a chuckle.

Silence reigned supreme for the space of five minutes, at the end of which time Mrs. Jollyboy said quietly:

INFECTION IS DISCOVERED IN HOLMES COUNTY

Carload of Exposed Cattle Held Up By the State.

Columbus, Nov. 30.—Discovery of a herd infected with foot and mouth disease in Holmes county resulted in that county's being placed under strict quarantine by Dr. Paul Fischer. Quick work with the telegraph saved Cuyahoga county from a like fate and saved the Cleveland stockyards the expense of a $10,000 fumigation.

Holmes county was one of the sections of the state heretofore considered free from the epizootic. As soon as the disease was found there it also was discovered that a carload of exposed cattle had been shipped to Cleveland. The train was caught and stopped just outside of Cleveland and the car of exposed cattle was cut out.

It was fear of just such incidents that made Dr. Fischer and Dr. Innes anxious to have a few more days before declaring the sending of cattle from one point to another to be safe.

All the field men operating in Ohio, to the number of almost 100, came here yesterday, and a reorganization of the work in the state was effected, as a result of which the five districts have been made into twelve and a district man appointed at the head of each.

The object of having smaller sections where the disease is prevalent is so that each head of a division may have personal knowledge of the conditions under his control.

The work of eradicating the disease will continue with renewed vigor. Dr. Innes reiterated his statement that the only safety is in the complete stamping out of the disease and all sources of contagion. The men reporting here named several new points of infection, but they were all within territory already quarantined except that of Holmes county.

INFECTION IS DISCOVERED IN HOLMES COUNTY

Carload of Exposed Cattle Held Up By the State.

Columbus, Nov. 30.—Discovery of a herd infected with foot and mouth disease in Holmes county resulted in that county's being placed under strict quarantine by Dr. Paul Fischer. Quick work with the telegraph saved Cuyahoga county from a like fate and saved the Cleveland stockyards the expense of a $10,000 fumigation.

Holmes county was one of the sections of the state heretofore considered free from the epizootic. As soon as the disease was found there it also was discovered that a carload of exposed cattle had been shipped to Cleveland. The train was caught and stopped just outside of Cleveland and the car of exposed cattle was cut out.

It was fear of just such incidents that made Dr. Fischer and Dr. Imes anxious to have a few more days before declaring the sending of cattle from one point to another to be safe.

All the field men operating in Ohio, to the number of almost 100, came here yesterday, and a reorganization of the work in the state was effected, as a result of which the five districts have been made into twelve and a district man appointed at the head of each.

The object of having smaller sections where the disease is prevalent is so that each head of a division may have personal knowledge of the conditions under his control.

The work of eradicating the disease will continue with renewed vigor. Dr. Imes reiterated his statement that the only safety is in the complete stamping out of the disease and all sources of contagion. The men reporting here named several new points of infection, but they were all within territory already quarantined except that of Holmes county.

STOCKMEN TAKING ADVANTAGE OF QUARANTINE MODIFICATION

Movement of Stock Becomes General in Fayette County—Many Farmers Appear Before County Prosecutor to Obtain Necessary Affidavits and Bureau of Live Stock Industry is Kept Busy Issuing Permits.

From early in the morning until far into the evening the jingle of telephone bells is almost incessant in the offices of the Bureau of Live Stock Industry in the Stitt-Todhunter building, and on the stair leading to the suite the processions of stockmen, coming and going, are well high unbroken. Ever since the local railroads and quarantine authorities received notification of the permit to resume the shipping of stock, Friday evening, this busy condition has existed.

The office of County Prosecutor Tom Maddox is also a busy place.

By the order of quarantine authorities, farmers may now move their stock out of the county, and about the county, subject to certain limitations, local and state-wide.

A farmer wishing to move stock must first make affidavit with the county prosecutor that his stock is free from infection, exposure, etc., and that it has been located at least three miles from infected stock. In the shipment of cattle and sheep this affidavit, presented to railroad officials is sufficient to guarantee their removal by rail. It likewise authorizes removal into the unquarantined areas of the county.

In the matter of moving hogs it is necessary to secure an additional permit from the Bureau of Live Stock Industry, as a safeguard against the spreading of cholera. The presentation of the affidavit sworn to before the county prosecutor is sufficient to obtain this permit.

Saturday, permits were issued by Dr. Olds, temporarily in charge of the local bureau, for the movement of 1139 head of hogs, the total included in 23 permits. Monday, judging from the way hog raisers swarmed into the offices during the early part of the day, about double this number will be issued.

From all parts of the county farmers are calling on the bureau for information concerning the movement of stock, of hay and straw, the state of quarantine and the foot and mouth disease situation.

The hay and straw quarantine is as rigid as formerly. No hay or straw may be moved that has not been harvested before August 1 and even that is subject to many limitations.

With the partial lifting of the quarantine Fayette county stock raisers are beginning to breathe with more ease and are for the most part looking forward with optimism.

COUNTY NOTIFIES CITY TO CEASE USE OF JAIL

Commissioners Take Formal Action On Old Problem and Notify City That Use of Jail for Housing City Prisoners Must Cease After January 1st, 1915—City Mps. Provide Municipal Lock-up Within Month.

The County Commissioners have passed a resolution formally notifying the city that after January 1st, 1915 the city can no longer use the county jail in which to confine city prisoners.

On January 17, 1914 the Commissioners notified the city that a municipal prison must be established to provide for all city prisoners. 90 days notice was required before the city could be shut out.

Each time the matter came up for consideration it was passed up by council, and allowed to drift. No attempt at providing a city prison was made, with the result that the final notice has been issued.

It is believed that a temporary prison may be constructed in the rear of the fire department building, although this has not been definitely decided upon, it is claimed.

Parts of council, it is said, favor the erection of a city building of proportions sufficient to accommodate all city offices, as well as the lock-up, and the problem will probably be threshed out at the approaching session of the city council.

The county jail, has for several years, or since the old city building was torn down, been used for housing city prisoners, and the cost to the city is said to be sufficient to pay the interest on a several thousand dollar bond issue.

One of the old steel cages formerly occupying the city prison, was utilized for holding some prisoners in 1912 and 1913, but this proved very unsatisfactory.

CHECK FOR $500 PRESENTED TO PASTOR

Friends of Father M. T. Molloy gathered at St. Joseph church to express their appreciation of the services which he has rendered them in directing the salvation of their souls, and to say farewell to him upon his departure.

Rev. Molloy who has been assistant pastor at St. Joseph church, has been assigned as pastor at St. Columbanus church, at Loveland, Ohio. A very eloquent talk, full of feeling and profound sincerity, was given by P. J. Shouvin, who expressed the sentiment of the entire congregation by relating the excellent work done by Father Molloy while at St. Joseph's the tender solicitude exercised by him over the people and keen interest which he took in all parish affairs. Mr. Shouvin said that on account of the extraordinarily long term during which Father Molloy spent among them, it was doubly hard to part with him.

At the end of his talk Mr. Shouvin presented Father Molloy with a check for the handsome sum of $500, as the expression of gratitude on the part of the parishioners and as a token of esteem and affection.

In response, Father Molloy spoke very feelingly concerning his work among the people and thanked them very graciously for the manner in which they manifested their esteem and appreciation of his efforts.

Rev. Molloy was further surprised Friday morning just as he was leaving Springfield at 9:45 for his new home in Loveland, the surprise coming in a unique and substantial manner, and gave additional evidence of the high esteem in which he was held by his former parishioners.

Just as he was boarding the train for his departure he was informed by Edward Considine that he had lost his pocketbook. Father Molloy, to his surprise found that he had lost it, and just as he was mourning his loss he was presented with a new one. To his surprise it contained $50. ### DEADLY SUBMARINES.

Menace of the Machines That Strike the Enemy in the Dark.

Submarines have many elements which make them a dangerous menace, but there are also many weaknesses which partially offset their offensive qualities. Traveling under water, they are invisible from ships except as the periscope is shot above the surface to reconnoiter. But they are quite easily seen from air craft, even when maneuvering at a great depth. They are unattackable by gunfire, except when they come to the surface, when their frail structure makes them particularly liable to sudden destruction. As they cannot be seen, they cannot be attacked by torpedoes from the ships they are after, but if the periscope comes up and the submarine is thus located she is liable to gunfire and torpedo attack and to being rammed or run down.

The limited view from the periscope, due to its restricted elevation above the water surface, makes it almost hopeless to attempt an attack in darkness. But the little vessel can travel long distances at night and be ready at break of dawn to spread destruction broadcast. The submarine can easily avoid a blockading fleet by passing beneath it. As its motions cannot be followed with the eye, the submarine possesses to an unusual degree the essential elements for delivering a surprise attack.

One of the chief means of dodging submarines is to keep continually on the move, changing direction frequently and keeping a sharp lookout for the spying periscope.—Leslie's.

No man is more cheated than the selfish man.

DEADLY SUBMARINES.

Menace of the Machines That Strike the Enemy in the Dark.

Submarines have many elements which make them a dangerous menace, but there are also many weaknesses which partially offset their offensive qualities. Traveling under water, they are invisible from ships except as the periscope is shot above the surface to reconnoiter. But they are quite easily seen from air craft, even when maneuvering at a great depth. They are unattackable by gunfire, except when they come to the surface, when their frail structure makes them particularly liable to sudden destruction. As they cannot be seen, they cannot be attacked by torpedoes from the ships they are after, but if the periscope comes up and the submarine is thus located she is liable to gunfire and torpedo attack and to being rammed or run down.

The limited view from the periscope, due to its restricted elevation above the water surface, makes it almost hopeless to attempt an attack in darkness. But the little vessel can travel long distances at night and be ready at break of dawn to spread destruction broadcast. The submarine can easily avoid a blockading fleet by passing beneath it. As its motions cannot be followed with the eye, the submarine possesses to an unusual degree the essential elements for delivering a surprise attack.

One of the chief means of dodging submarines is to keep continually on the move, changing direction frequently and keeping a sharp lookout for the spying periscope.—Leslie's.

No man is more cheated than the selfish man.

ANOTHER CONTENDER FOR MEXICAN SCEPTER

Gonzales Proclaims Himself Provisional President.

HAS FORMIDABLE FOLLOWING

Negotiations Under Way Between Convention Leaders and General Zapata For a Joint Entry Into Mexico City—Carranza Sends Force of Troops Against Tampico—Developments in Mexican Situation.

Washington, Nov. 30.—A new aspirant for presidential honors in Mexico was added to the list with the receipt of advices here that General Pablo Gonzalez, one of Carranza's divisional chiefs, has proclaimed himself provisional president of Mexico and has named a cabinet.

This report, received officially here, comes from Queretaro, where General Gutierrez, the Aguascalientes convention's choice for president, has established himself. According to this information General Gonzalez is at Pachuca with his forces, said to number 8,000 men. Pachuca is north of Mexico City, about fifty miles distant.

Gonzales recently withdrew from Queretaro in the face of the advance of Villa and his troops, and his whereabouts has for some time been more or less of a mystery. The mystery is now solved, it is believed, with the announcement that he has proclaimed himself provisional president.

While it is doubted if he will attempt to take Mexico City at present, it is admitted that General Gonzalez with his present force can make himself a most disturbing factor in the situation and perhaps frustrate all the plans of either Villa, Zapata or Carranza so long as he holds his present strong position.

According to other state department advices negotiations are under way between the convention leaders and Zapata for a joint entry into Mexico City. Villa is reported to have declared that he is fully prepared to co-operate with Zapata and will not seek to take away from his forces the control of Mexico City as long as the Zapata forces preserve good order and prevent executions of civilians and looting of property in the city.

Further trouble is threatened at Tampico, according to advices received here. General Cabellero, supposed to be holding Tampico under General Pablo Gonzalez, has informed General Gutierrez of his adherence to the convention, thus indicating that Tampico merely awaited the arrival of the convention forces to take possession of it.

Carranza, on the other hand, is attempting to gain control of Tampico and is sending 2,000 troops from Vera Cruz to Tampico to take the city.

CARNEGIE, RICH AND WELL AT 79, MAY LIVE TO DIE POOR, AS HE WISHES.

ANDREW CARNEGIE

Vigorous and active, Andrew Carnegie reaches seventy-nine years of age, November 25th. He was born at Dunfermline, Fifeshire, Scotland, and was brought to the United States by his family when thirteen years old. They settled in Pittsburgh. His first job was that of weaver's assistant in a cotton mill at Allegheny, Pa. Then he became a telegraph messenger boy. He next became a telegraph operator and gained rapid promotion with the Pennsylvania railroad. He made his first money with a sleeping car company, then bought oil lands and after the civil war laid the foundation for his great fortune by developing and establishing steel works at Pittsburgh. ## VON HINDENBURG EARNS PROMOTION

Berlin, Nov. 30.—In addition to promoting General Paul von Hindenburg to the rank of field marshal and conferring upon him the iron cross, the kaiser has raised General Luedendorf to the rank of lieutenant general. General Luedendorf is chief of staff for Field Marshal Von Hindenburg and is credited here with a large responsibility for the splendid organization and indomitable resistance of the armies defending the eastern frontier.

The report from Thorn that Field Marshal Von Hindenburg has captured 60,000 Russians, 15 heavy guns and 200 machine guns has aroused tremendous enthusiasm in the capital. The war office does not refer to General Von Hindenburg's announcement in its official statement, but there is no doubt here that the Germans are in an excellent position and that they are holding their own against greatly superior forces.

New small mountains appeared at different points on the island.

WILSON MAY RECOMMEND SOME CHANGES

President Wilson Writing His Message to Congress.

Washington, Nov. 30.—President Wilson has a busy week ahead of him in preparation for the convening of congress. Besides completing his annual message, he will discuss the European situation with two American diplomats just back from the war zone, consider various pressing domestic problems and receive a number of important callers. In completing the message, it is understood the president will consider the advisability of recommending that congress amend the Sherman anti-trust laws so as to allow American exporters to co-operate to meet organized foreign competition.

President Fay of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, who will call at the White House during the week, is expected to urge carrying out at once a provision of the Newlands act creating the trade commission providing for an investigation of combinations abroad with which American exporters have to compete. Mr. Wilson has been busy for more than a month canvassing names of men suggested for membership on the trade commission. He is understood to have decided on Joseph Davies, commissioner of corporations, whose bureau will be merged into the new commission, and Mr. Fay is said to be a probable choice for one of the places.

President Issues Statement in Which He Expresses Disappointment That the Mine Operators Had Rejected His Proposals Heretofore Made For Settlement of Strike—Hopes For Amicable Adjustment of Trouble.

Washington, Nov. 30.—President Wilson named a commission of three, composed of Seth Low of New York, Charles W. Mills of Philadelphia and Patrick Gilly of Clearfield, Pa., a miner, to deal with the Colorado coal strike. The announcement of the appointment of the commission was accompanied by a statement from the president in which he expressed disappointment that the mine operators had rejected his proposals heretofore made for settlement of the strike. In his statement the president says:

"The strike of the miners in Colorado, which has now lasted for twelve months, has attracted the attention of the whole country and has been accompanied by many distressing and tragical circumstances." President Wilson then briefly reviews the efforts that have been made for an adjustment of the trouble and says he thinks the country regrets that the mine operators refused the plan to have the differences referred to a commission appointed by the president during a temporary truce.

"Merely to withdraw the federal troops," the statement continues, "and leave the situation to clear and settle itself, would seem to me to be doing something less than my duty after all that has occurred. I have therefore determined to appoint the commission contemplated in the plan of temporary settlement, notwithstanding the rejection of that plan by the mine operators, and thus at least to create the instrumentality by which like troubles and disputes may be amicably and honorably settled in the future, in the hope, the very earnest and sincere hope, that both parties may see it to be not merely to their own best interests, but also a duty which they owe to the communities they serve and to the nation itself to make use of this instrumentality of peace and render strife of the kind which has threatened the order and prosperity of the great state of Colorado a thing of the past, impossible of repetition so long as everything that is done is done in good temper and with the genuine purpose to do justice and observe every public as well as every private obligation."

In appointing the commission to deal with the Colorado strike situation, President Wilson is guided by the precedent established by President Roosevelt in the Pennsylvania coal strike case some years ago.

ANOTHER CONTENDER FOR MEXICAN SCEPTER

Gonzales Proclaims Himself Provisional President.

HAS FORMIDABLE FOLLOWING

Negotiations Under Way Between Convention Leaders and General Zapata For a Joint Entry Into Mexico City—Carranza Sends Force of Troops Against Tampico—Developments in Mexican Situation.

Washington, Nov. 30.—A new aspirant for presidential honors in Mexico was added to the list with the receipt of advices here that General Pablo Gonzales, one of Carranza's divisional chiefs, has proclaimed himself provisional president of Mexico and has named a cabinet.

This report, received officially here, comes from Queretaro, where General Gutierrez, the Aguascalientes convention's choice for president, has established himself. According to this information General Gonzales is at Pachuca with his forces, said to number 8,000 men, Pachuca is north of Mexico City, about fifty miles distant.

Gonzales recently withdrew from Queretaro in the face of the advance

of Villa and his troops, and his whereabouts has for some time been more or less of a mystery. The mystery is now solved, it is believed, with the announcement that he has proclaimed himself provisional president.

While it is doubted if he will attempt to take Mexico City at present, it is admitted that General Gonzales with his present force can make himself a most disturbing factor in the situation and perhaps frustrate all the plans of either Villa, Zapata or Carranza so long as he holds his present strong position.

According to other state department advices negotiations are under way between the convention leaders and Zapata for a joint entry into Mexico City. Villa is reported to have declared that he is fully prepared to co-operate with Zapata and will not seek to take away from his forces the control of Mexico City as long as the Zapata forces preserve good order and prevent executions of civilians and looting of property in the city.

Further trouble is threatened at Tampico, according to advices received here. General Cabellero, supposed to be holding Tampico under General Pablo Gonzales, has informed General Gutierrez of his adherence to the convention, thus indicating that Tampico merely awaited the arrival of the convention forces to take possession of it. Carranza, on the other hand, is attempting to gain control of Tampico and is sending 2,000 troops from Vera Cruz to Tampico to take the city.

His first job was that of weaver's assistant in a cotton mill at Allegheny, Pa. Then he became a telegraph messenger boy. He next became a telegraph operator and gained rapid promotion with the Pennsylvania railroad. He made his first money with a sleeping car company, then bought oil lands and after the civil war laid the foundation for his great fortune by developing and establishing steel works at Pittsburgh. ## RUSSIANS CLAIM THE ADVANTAGE

Battle in Poland Raging With Undiminished Vigor.

KAISER ENCOURAGES TROOPS

Joins Field Marshal Von Hindenburg to Offer His Advice and Spur His Men Fighting the Legions of the Czar—Russians Claim Successes in Galicia—Germans Bombarding Allied Positions in France.

London, Nov. 30.—While deprecating the exaggerated reports of Russian successes in the battle in northern Poland, where the German emperor has joined Field Marshal Von Hindenburg to offer his advice and to encourage his troops, the latest available official reports from Russian headquarters state that the advantage in the fighting still lies with the Russian army.

It is also officially stated that enormous losses have been inflicted on the Germans. Opposed to this is the German official report, which says that the Russian attacks have been repulsed and that the German counter attacks have been successful.

Some days must elapse before this battle is concluded. So far all that is definitely known is that the German advance has been brought to a standstill. Some of the German troops are reported partly or wholly surrounded, but they are still fighting stubbornly to break their way through the Russian lines, apparently to the northward, where they hope to join reinforcements sent from Thorn.

In the battle before Cracow the Russians do claim decisive success. During the last week they report they took 30,000 Austrian and German prisoners in this region. This victory is taken in Petrograd to mean that Cracow will not bar the Russian advance in Silesia from the south, but that, with the Austrian army beaten, it will be necessary only to mask the fortress.

The Russians likewise announce success on the Austrian side of the Carpathians and against the Turks in the Caucasus, although in both regions the worst of weather has prevailed.

In the western arena, the Germans, although making an occasional infantry attack, seem at present content to bombard the allied positions, but with somewhat lighter guns than they have been using. This may mean either that they are sending troops and artillery to the east to use against the Russians, or that they are preparing a new attack against the allies.

There has undoubtedly been a change somewhat favorable to the Germans in the situation in Poland. The Russian general staff, which at no time has asserted that a complete victory was gained over the German armies between the Vistula and the Warthe, gives out that the fighting is favorable to the Russians, but that the Germans are making a stubborn resistance. The war office in Petrograd thought it essential to curb extravagant claims of victory. The government states plainly that the issue has not been decided, and warns the Russian people not to believe any statements other than the official dispatches from the general staff.

Thirty militiamen are on duty constantly at Fort Erie, directly opposite Buffalo, and the whole river front from there to Niagara Falls and Queenstown is patrolled by about 600 members of the newly formed home guard. It is explained that the river patrol is to prevent the possibility of another raid similar to that of the Fenian raid.

URBANA OFFICIALS TO GET THE HOOK

Urbana, O., Nov. 30.—Mayor M. R. Talbot announced, after receiving notice of a decision of the state civil service commission sustaining a charge of malfeasance in office against the Urbana civil service commission, that he would dismiss the local commission. At the same time he said he would dismiss Service Director Flaughner, Safety Director Scheidt and Street Commissioner Huston. All were appointed by former Mayor Green. The action of the state commission is based upon charges of conspiracy made by fifty citizens after Mayor Green, who died recently, had dismissed the entire police force.

WIFE MAKES WARM CHARGES

New York, Nov. 30.—A steel manufacturer's wife, who alleges her husband became disgusted with her because of her lack of education and turned to more polished women acquaintances when he became prosperous, has been awarded $25 a week alimony and $200 counsel fee by Supreme Court Justice Newburger, pending a suit for separation on the ground of abandonment. The plaintiff is Mrs. Margaret Robinson, wife of Ernest Robinson, superintendent of the United States Metal Products company. The couple were married in 1906 and have a child six years old. Mrs. Robinson told of finding her husband embracing her nineteen-year-old niece on two occasions and when she surprised him he fainted and had to be put to bed.

RUSSIANS CLAIM THE ADVANTAGE

Battle in Poland Raging With Undiminished Vigor.

KAISER ENCOURAGES TROOPS

Joins Field Marshal Von Hindenburg to Offer His Advice and Spur His Men Fighting the Legions of the Czar—Russians Claim Successes in Galicia—Germans Bombarding Allied Positions in France.

London, Nov. 30.—While deprecating the exaggerated reports of Russian successes in the battle in northern Poland, where the German emperor has joined Field Marshal Von Hindenburg to offer his advice and to encourage his troops, the latest available official reports from Russian headquarters state that the advantage in the fighting still lies with the Russian army.

It is also officially stated that enormous losses have been inflicted on the Germans. Opposed to this is the German official report, which says that the Russian attacks have been repulsed and that the German counter attacks have been successful.

Some days must elapse before this battle is concluded. So far all that is definitely known is that the German advance has been brought to a standstill. Some of the German troops are reported partly or wholly surrounded, but they are still fighting stubbornly to break their way through the Russian lines, apparently to the northward, where they hope to join reinforcements sent from Thorn.

In the battle before Cracow the Russians do claim decisive success. During the last week they report they took 30,000 Austrian and German prisoners in this region. This victory is taken in Petrograd to mean that Cracow will not bar the Russian advance in Silesia from the south, but that, with the Austrian army beaten, it will be necessary only to mask the fortress.

The Russians likewise announce success on the Austrian side of the Carpathians and against the Turks in the Caucasus, although in both regions the worst of weather has prevailed.

In the western arena, the Germans, although making an occasional in-

try attack, seem at present content to bombard the allied positions, but with somewhat lighter guns than they have been using. This may mean either that they are sending troops and artillery to the east to use against the Russians, or that they are preparing a new attack against the allies. There has undoubtedly been a change somewhat favorable to the Germans in the situation in Poland. The Russian general staff, which at no time has asserted that a complete victory was gained over the German armies between the Vistula and the Warthe, gives out that the fighting is favorable to the Russians, but that the Germans are making a stubborn resistance. The war office in Petrograd thought it essential to curb extravagant claims of victory. The government states plainly that the issue has not been decided, and warns the Russian people not to believe any statements other than the official dispatches from the general staff.

CANADIANS GUARD NIAGARA RIVER

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 30.—While a high Canadian official declares that the probability of a German invasion of Canada is not anticipated, it became known that the Dominion government is exercising the greatest precautions against any possible raid on the part of German sympathizers across the Niagara river. Thirty militiamen are on duty constantly at Fort Erie, directly opposite Buffalo, and the whole river front from there to Niagara Falls and Queenstown is patrolled by about 600 members of the newly formed home guard. It is explained that the river patrol is to prevent the possibility of another raid similar to that of the Fenian raid.

STILL FIGHTING IN THE ARGONNE

BRYAN TAKES SHOT AT LIQUOR TRAFFIC

Chicago, Nov. 30.—"Love, not dreadnaughts and siege guns, will bring peace to warring Europe," said Secretary of State Bryan here in an address to a meeting of Chicago Presbyterians. He denounced the liquor traffic, saying that it was useless to attempt to cure the evils of society without stopping the sources of evil.

M'KINLEY MEMORIAL

Youngstown, O., November 30.—The citizens of Ohio and of the nation are given the opportunity to become partners in the project of perpetuating the memory of William McKinley, a martyred president, by the construction of a memorial to his life and deeds at his birthplace, Niles, Ohio.

The National McKinley Birthplace Memorial Association has decided before proceeding with what is to be a $250,000 memorial building at Niles, to ask the co-operation and help of every man, woman and child who is an admirer of the late president in completing the fund which is needed to erect the memorial.

A certificate of life membership will be issued to any person who will pay one dollar into the memorial fund. These certificates have just been received at the headquarters of the association at Youngstown, and are handsomely engraved with a likeness of McKinley and the date and place of his birth and death.

Famous and wealthy men have generously given of their means to make possible the Niles McKinley memorial. The amount of money that has already been raised is far in excess of the sum of $100,000, which it was originally proposed to spend on the memorial.

William McKinley was born and spent the first eleven years of his life at Niles where he received his early education and it is for this reason that it is proposed to build the memorial in that town.

The citizens of Niles have voted a bond issue of $100,000 to buy an entire city block for the site of the Memorial. In addition $175,000 has been subscribed toward the building fund proper which is to be $250,000. The remaining $75,000 is to be raised by the plan of securing life memberships in the memorial association.

With the approval of these men and organizations the Memorial Association believes that the people as a whole will readily take advantage of the opportunity to help commemorate the name and fame of William McKinley. Life membership in the Association is within the reach of all who will send one dollar to the National McKinley Birthplace Memorial Association, Stambaugh building, Youngstown, Ohio.

SEVERAL SUSPECTED CASES OF CHOLERA

Twelve farmers reported to the local Bureau of Live Stock Industry, Monday morning, that some of their swine showed symptoms of cholera, and investigations were ordered as quickly as possible.

It is by far the largest number of suspected cases reported in one day for quite a while, or since the last previous cold rain.

At the present time there are four assistant State Veterinarians engaged in keeping the cholera under control, and two local veterinarians also have been assisting the department in its work since the outbreak of the foot and mouth disease, which summoned several of the veterinarians to other parts of the state.

Dr. H. A. Salt, who has had charge of the local branch, but who ten days ago was called to Cincinnati to superintend the work there, is expected to return Tuesday of this week, and assume charge of the cholera eradication work.

HUGE RESERVOIR BECOMES DANGEROUS

The following article, from the Waverly Watchman, regarding the new city waterworks reservoir constructed at Portsmouth by Contractor Shumway, who rebuilt the Deva-lon road in this county, will be of interest to local citizens:

"The new reservoir which the city of Portsmouth had put out on top of one of Scioto county's tallest peaks is in danger of collapsing. After some careful investigation it has been found that the ground under the concrete work has begun to slip. Great property loss and danger to life would result should the immense retaining walls burst."

M'KINLEY MEMORIAL

Youngstown, O., November 30.—The citizens of Ohio and of the nation are given the opportunity to become partners in the project of perpetuating the memory of William McKinley, a martyred president, by the construction of a memorial to his life and deeds at his birthplace, Niles, Ohio.

The National McKinley Birthplace Memorial Association has decided before proceeding with what is to be a $250,000 memorial building at Niles, to ask the co-operation and help of every man, woman and child who is an admirer of the late president in completing the fund which is needed to erect the memorial.

A certificate of life membership will be issued to any person who will pay one dollar into the memorial fund. These certificates have just been received at the headquarters of the association at Youngstown, and are handsomely engraved with a likeness of McKinley and the date and place of his birth and death.

Famous and wealthy men have generously given of their means to make possible the Niles McKinley memorial. The amount of money that has already been raised is far in excess of the sum of $100,000, which it was originally proposed to spend on the memorial.

William McKinley was born and spent the first eleven years of his life at Niles where he received his early education and it is for this reason that it is proposed to build the memorial in that town.

The citizens of Niles have voted a bond issue of $100,000 to buy an entire city block for the site of the Memorial. In addition $175,000 has been subscribed toward the building fund proper which is to be $250,000. The remaining $75,000 is to be raised by the plan of securing life memberships in the memorial association.

With the approval of these men and organizations the Memorial Association believes that the people as a whole will readily take advantage of the opportunity to help commemorate the name and fame of William McKinley. Life membership in the Association is within the reach of all who will send one dollar to the National McKinley Birthplace Memorial Association, Stambaugh building, Youngstown, Ohio.

SEVERAL SUSPECTED CASES OF CHOLERA

Twelve farmers reported to the local Bureau of Live Stock Industry, Monday morning, that some of their swine showed symptoms of cholera, and investigations were ordered as quickly as possible.

It is by far the largest number of suspected cases reported in one day for quite a while, or since the last previous cold rain.

At the present time there are four assistant State Veterinarians engaged in keeping the cholera under control, and two local veterinarians also have been assisting the department in its work since the outbreak of the foot and mouth disease, which summoned several of the veterinarians to other parts of the state.

Dr. H. A. Salt, who has had charge of the local branch, but who ten days ago was called to Cincinnati to superintend the work there, is expected to return Tuesday of this week, and assume charge of the cholera eradication work.

HUGE RESERVOIR BECOMES DANGEROUS

The following article, from the Waverly Watchman, regarding the new city waterworks reservoir constructed at Portsmouth by Contractor Shumway, who rebuilt the Devan road in this county, will be of interest to local citizens:

"The new reservoir which the city of Portsmouth had put out on top of one of Scioto county's tallest peaks is in danger of collapsing. After some careful investigation it has been found that the ground under the concrete work has begun to slip. Great property loss and danger to life would result should the immense retaining walls burst."

Sauce For the Gander.
She went into the club one day
To have a cup of tea,
And long before she went away
I think that she'd had three.

"Just let me have a clove, please, Beth."
She whispered to the maid.
"To go home with this fragrant breath
I'd really be afraid."

"Afraid"—the waitress did speak low—
"Of what? I cannot see."
"My husband would be vexed, you know
He hates the smell of tea!"

The Way of Judges.

"William," asked the judge's wife, "did you get the spool of silk thread I ordered you to bring home yesterday?"

"Dear me! How provoking! Be sure to get it today."

"I'm sorry, but I cannot do so."

"Why not, I'd like to know?"

"I have looked through all the books, and I have been unable to find a precedent that would warrant me in taking such action."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.
